Harvest Delayed As Wheat Remains Green

First Wheat Is Received On Local Market Has Very Fine Quality, Say Buyers.

YIELD IS GOOD

Price Paid Is $1.00 Per Bushel — Cutting In Full Blast All Over the County

Wheat harvest in Randall county has been delayed by the cool weather of the week. A light shower fell Monday in various parts of the county, only enough to cool the atmosphere, but sufficient to cause the wheat to green up considerably.

"Wheat is greener today than it was a week ago," stated a well-known observer yesterday as he reviewed reports from over the county. The cause for this is due to the sucker heads which have come up, and the rapid growth of weeds. The weeds have grown fast in the late crops and the thin stands of wheat. The early wheat has not been bothered very much by weeds.

Those who started cutting wheat last week found most of the crop so green that they were forced to stop. It is believed that Friday and Saturday of this week will see harvest in full blast over the county unless rain holds up the cutting.

Most farmers are of the opinion that a heavy rain now would be very destructive to the wheat crop. The early wheat which is ripe has fallen badly in various parts of the county. A heavy rain would bring down most of the early crop, and would reduce the test. In addition it would bring on a rank growth of weeds which would be hard to handle.

Farmers state that practically all of the row crops which were cleaned after the big rains are doing fine and will need no rain for some time.

Most of the farmers are cutting the thin wheat first in order to get the wheat before the weeds grow so rank.

Local machinery dealers state that more repairs have been sold this year than for many years. The farmers did not have their combines in shape until the heavy rains came, and every dealer has been rushed to take care of the orders for repairs. Few new combines have been sold in this section, but practically all of the stock of used machines have been taken out by the farmers.

The first load of wheat came to Canyon Thursday and was handled by the Neff Elevator. Albert Byars brought in this load. The next wheat came in Monday and was handled by the Farmers Ele-

NYA Will Continue Next Year Colleges Informed, Says Hill

President J. A. Hill has been informed that NYA will be continued next year. Under this plan 106 W. T. students were provided with work during the past year, the government allowing about $12 per month for those who qualified.

College authorities over the nation have highly praised this service rendered under the New Deal, since it allowed thousands of young men and women to continue their studies who would otherwise been forced to quit college work. In view of the fact that few of them could have secured employment, it would have meant additions to the relief rolls.

The students are carefully selected, and without exception have performed their duties well, according to those connected with this movement.

C. A. Murray is chairman of the committee which directs NYA in W. T.

Double Header To Be Played Friday For Play Night

Two Softball games are scheduled for Friday night at Buffalo Stadium. The Ducks and Merchants will play at 7:00 o'clock. This game will be followed by the College team playing a team from Panhandle.

The usual other play night games will be played under the lights of Buffalo field.

Attorney General Opens Primary to Youth of State

May Vote Without Exemption — Precinct 9 Remains Under 10,000 Population Rule

The Attorney General has issued a new ruling on those who are becoming of age and will cast their first vote in the July primary.

Young persons not residing in a city of 10,000 population or more, and who became 21 years of age prior to February 1, 1936, should have obtained an exemption certificate prior to that date in order to vote.

If they became 21 years of age since February 1, or will become 21 years of age prior to the elections during the year, they will be entitled to vote even though they did not obtain an exemption certificate prior to February 1.

Those living in a city of 10,000 or more must have secured the exemption certificate before they will be allowed to vote. So far as Randall county is concerned, this will apply only to those living in Precinct No. 9 in the portion covered by South Amarillo.

All young persons who did not secure their exemption certificates, but will be 21 years of age before July 25th will be allowed to vote.

Another section of the law which has frequently been overlooked is that those who have moved into the county during the past six months, or have moved from one precinct to another must take their poll tax to the collector's office and have it stamped as having moved into the county, or moved from one precinct to another. This must be done 10 days before the election.

Warning Issued By Government Against Gang of Peddlers

The postoffice department has issued a warning that a gang of swindlers is operating in this section selling glasses and offering to do operations on the eyes. They collect a big fee and leave the victims with nothing.

According to the warning issued, they travel in pairs, and claim to represent some firm for the purpose of checking up on glasses. The eyes are examined, and they always find it necessary that an operation be performed. A fake doctor is "induced" to perform the operation at a nominal fee of $100 to $300, whereas his usual fee is $500 to $1,000.

The government asks that people notify the peace officers if approached by these men, as they are wanted in a number of places for swindling.

Postoffice Receipts Increased Annually During Past Years

The Receipts of the Canyon post office have increased annually, according to the report which has been completed for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The receipts for the past year amounted to $18,016.21.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, the receipts were $17,749.46.

The previous year showed a total of $17,139.36.

The constant increase in the local receipts was the major cause for the appropriation for the new postoffice building, which will soon be started.

The local office has set a record for this section in the sale of baby bonds. $14,000 worth of these bonds were bought during June at the local office, bringing the total sale up to $75,000. This is the net cash price of the bonds, instead of the maturity value as so often figured in reports made by various offices.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shackelford of Savannah, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shackelford of Lancaster, Texas, were guests in the home of their brother, W. G. Shackelford, during the latter part of last week. It has been 36 years since the brothers had been together.

July Fourth In Canyon Is Called a Great Success

Large Crowd Interested In Events of Day Put on Here — Candidates Are Pleased

"The business firms of Canyon were highly pleased with the results of the Fourth of July celebration," declared W. A. Warren, Monday. As president of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor for this celebration, Mr. Warren spent several hours Monday visiting with business firms to check up the reaction to the celebration.

While little enthusiasm prevailed last week as to the possibilities of the celebration, practically every firm in Canyon reported a surprisingly big business for Saturday, and urged that the Chamber of Commerce make plans now for a much larger celebration next year.

It is conservatively estimated that 3,000 people were on the court house lawn during the afternoon.

The program was carried out as advertised last week, each feature drawing a large crowd of interested spectators who were pleased with the program that had been provided.

The public school band certainly performed in wonderful style as the organization was called upon to do a large part of the entertaining. The band made its first appearance at 9:30 o'clock in the morning; again at 1:45 and concluded this program by leading the old car parade; played again at 8:00 o'clock, and then at the rodeo

President Vetoed Plan to Move People Drouth Section

President Roosevelt denied that his administration was interested in or had considered the oft repeated threat of removing citizens from the drouth territory. Last year the report was often made that this was the program for the dust bowl. This year the report has been reported so far as the Dakotas and Montana are concerned.

Several advisers of the President from Washington have been reported to favor the removal of citizens from drouth stricken sections, and the President thought it advisable to make a blanket denial of such a plan on his part.

New Rotary Head

HARRY A. BROWN

IRBY CARRUTH

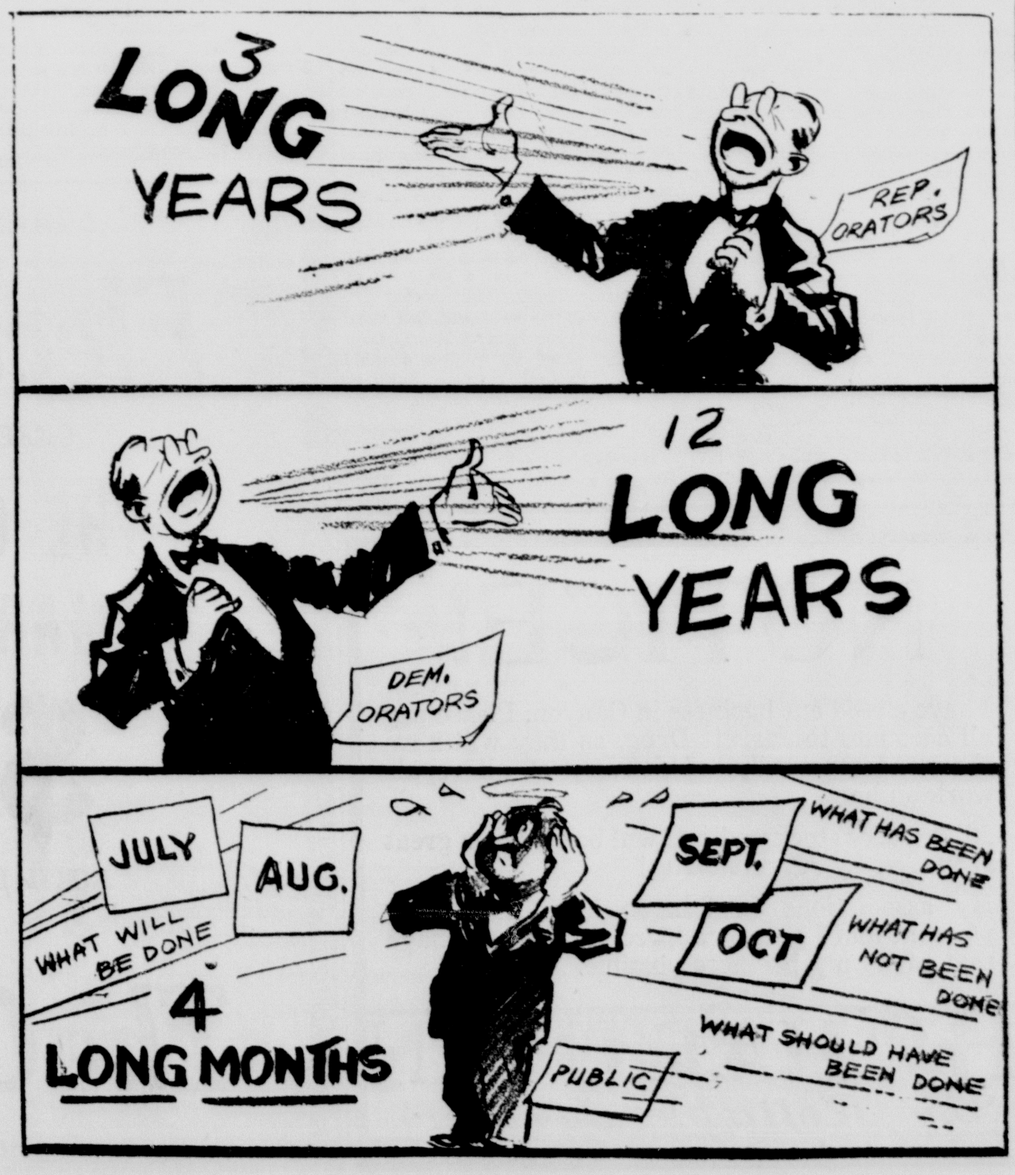
The Canyon Rotary Club started the new year Tuesday when Dr. Harry A. Brown became president, succeeding Irby Carruth.

President Brown was in charge of the program Tuesday, introducing the new officers of the club, and the members of the various club committees which he had appointed for the coming year's work. He explained the functions of each committee and invited the co-operation of all members in carrying on the year's work.

Visitors present were: John McCarty, F. A. Zimpfer, Phil Purdum, Arthur Osgood, Horace Griggs, C. M. McMurtry, Harley Cook, W. D. Howren, R. H. Piper, all of Amarillo; Joe Humphreys of Olney; H. T. Burton of Clarendon; Lieut. Wall of Palo Duro Park.

Relatives of Mrs. Earl Robbins who visited her Sunday were her sister and family of Russell, Kansas. They were Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Carson and three daughters, Melva, Aileen, and Dorris.

LONG, LONG TRAIL



P. O. PLANS COMPLETED

Summer Session To End First Period

Large number of New Students Expected to Enter Second Period of W. T.

The first session of the summer session will end Saturday and the second period will start Monday.

1250 people have received instruction at W. T. during the first six weeks of the current summer session. The administration followed a unique program this summer in bringing to the campus a number of special attractions.

The first Annual West Texas Coaching School was one of these attractions. 175 coaches of the Panhandle-Plains region gathered to hear nine of the outstanding coaches of the United States speak on various sports.

The Palo Duro School of Art was originated. This body of students and artists camped in Palo Duro State Park and worked with well-known artists and critics of the Southwest.

The special lectures series featured successful and well-known men in the fields of law, medicine, government, business, art, education, social science, agriculture, natural science, and physical science.

Construction has kept pace with other new features at the College. The $60,000 annex to Cousins Hall, dormitory for girls, was opened for occupancy for the first time this summer. Excavation is under way for the $18,000 addition to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, financed with Texas Centennial Funds. The work of building rock walls and laying caliche roads through the physical education campus has continued.

Cash Distribution Will Be Held Hereafter Saturday p. m.

The regular weekly cash distribution will be held at 3:00 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. This announcement was made last Saturday by W. A. Warren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who stated that a majority of the people and the 40 business houses which were co-operating in this movement favored Saturday.

Jake Harrison Is Named WPA Supervisor of Projects

Jake Harrison has received his appointment as supervisor of the WPA projects in Canyon and will take charge this week. Frank Harrison has been named district supervisor of Randall, Potter, Oldham and Deaf Smith counties.

Reports from San Antonio indicate that a change will be made in WPA within a few days regarding the schedule of pay and the amount of time which the men will be allowed to work. The hour pay may be hiked somewhat, according to this report, but no increase will be allowed in the number of hours to be worked.

Mayor C. R. Burrow, C. H. Jarrett and Clyde Warwick were in conference with Senator Clint Small, Sunday regarding the WPA projects on the campus. Senator Small has called upon Congressman Marvin Jones and the two are assisting in working out some of the tangles which have come up.

All projects are being carried forward, and new ones are being worked out for submission before the first of September.

Bones Found While Museum Basement Is Being Excavated

Bones of many pre-historic animals have been removed while the excavation for the basement of the Museum addition has been in progress. Workers on the job have been interested in making a collection which has been turned over to Prof. C. S. Johnston for classification. Gene Whitman has been removing the bones as found by the workmen.

Mr. Johnston states that from the number of bones being excavated all over the Plains there had to be many large animals in this section in the early periods.

Owing to the delay of PWA in providing for trucks for this period, slow progress is being made on the excavation. Mr. Whitman states that the men could finish the excavation in about a week if the trucks were available. A new set-up on trucks is being made which has not been put into effect.

Dr. J. A. Hill has heard nothing as to when the contract will be let by the Board of Control for the construction of the basement for the addition to the Museum building.

Marvin Jones To Make Few Speeches During Campaign

Congressman Marvin Jones is visiting the counties of his district for the purpose of spending as much time with as many people as possible. His friends advise that an extensive speech making tour will be unnecessary since his work in congress is so well known to all of the people.

Because of his work for the farmers, $23,566,777.98 was returned to the farmers of his district through the various governmental agencies. In Randall county this amounts to $1,084,706.54.

In listing his accomplishments, friends have advised that he has accomplished for the people of his district, the following:

1. For the cattlemen: Drouth relief; cattle loans; lower freight rates.

2. For the farmer: Conservation of soil; equal opportunities for farmers; allotment payments; lower interest on mortgages; crop loans.

3. For Home Owners: Home Owners' Loan Corporation; lower rates of interest on homes; prevention of unjust foreclosures.

4. Social security; Stimulating employment and public building; funds for highway construction; direct relief; old age security.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell of Paducah spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. H. Braswell.

Mrs. M. S. Bishir and daughter, Peggy, returned Tuesday from Richmond, Va., where they have spent a month with her sister.

BIDS WILL BE ASKED DURING COMING WEEK

Specifications Are Being Written This Week For New Building Slated For Canyon

CONSTRUCTION SOON

Contract Likely To Be Let By Middle of August Is Word From Marvin Jones

Specifications for the new postoffice building in Canyon are promised this week by the architects in Washington, according to a telegram received Saturday morning from Congressman Marvin Jones. This is the first word which has been received regarding the plans for the new building since the first of May. The News had requested Mr. Jones to check up on the progress of the building plans.

According to the information wired by Mr. Jones from Washington, the drawings on the building are completed, and the specifications will be completed this week. It is likely that bids will be called for next week. The advertisement for bids will run for 30 days, which will make it possible for the bids to be opened about the middle of August.

No information has yet been given out by the treasury department as to the approximate amount which has been alloted to the local postoffice, but it is estimated that the building and equipment will probably approximate $50,000.

Small Forces Fight Back Corporation Charges of Opponent

Binford Arney, youthful campaign manager for Senator Clint C. Small, this week charged that opposition speakers were misrepresenting the facts in linking Senator Small with corporate interests.

"Small's name appeared in newspaper accounts of oil and gas hearings," Arney declared, "as an attorney for the State of Texas. Opposition speakers have seized upon such appearances to claim that Senator Small was representing big corporations. The truth is that Senator Small has always defended the independent operators in the Panhandle gas fields. He has gone into court in defense of the laws which he wrote into the statutes of Texas."

The Senator so far has refrained from "mud-slinging" but announced Monday that he would wait no longer to explain issues brought into the campaign by his opponent.

"I believe that my record merits the support of every clear-thinking person in the district," Small added. "Distortion of facts and deliberate attempts to mislead the people of the Panhandle have forced me to veer from my policy of seeking public office on the issues of statesmanship alone."

First Pension Checks Are Received in Canyon Friday Morning

The first of the old age pension checks were received in Canyon Friday morning. While no information could be given out by the postoffice as to the number or the amount of the checks, a good sized stack of letters came to those who had applied.

O. W. Gano, local inspector, states that he has received no statement of the number that has been approved in Austin. More than 100 applications were filed for the old age assistance by residents of Randall county.

C. N. Harrison was brought home from the hospital Friday. He will likely be confined to his home for some time owing to his recent illness.

Harvey Cash was sick last week and unable to be at his desk in the city hall. He is improved this week.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

POLITICAL TOMFOOLERY

A few years ago we were about convinced that politics was clearing up to such an extent that we should hear sensible discussions of men and measures. But 1936 promises and is developing more political rot than has been presented in many a day.

Those who are out, are splashing the muddy waters with rocks of criticism, chiefly for the purpose of confusing the minds of the voters as to their own short comings.

The mail of The News contains a great bundle of political trash every day. If any of the readers of The News wish to get a hearty laugh these hot days, come in and read some of this stuff. An issue of The News could not hold all of the stuff we receive weekly.

The opponents of Senator Morris Sheppard are running on the anti-prohibition platform, and charging that the Senator has served a long time in the Senate. These are the only excuses we find which they offer; and no serious qualifications are presented by any of them to insure the voter that he would make a good swap by voting against Sheppard.

Then comes the four opponents of Governor Allred. All they can talk about is the old age pension. Not one of them has read the constitutional amendment providing for this pension. If they have read it, then they cannot understand the English language, or are purposely attempting to deceive the voters. There is not a single intimation in the wording of this amendment which would lead a sensible man to believe that this amendment guaranteed a pension to every person 65 years of age. The amendment as voted upon by the people reads: "The legislature shall have the power by general laws to provide under such LIMITATIONS and RESTRICTIONS and REGULATIONS as may be deemed by the legislature expedient," etc.

Then Col. Ernest O. Thompson is charged as being the entire Railroad Commission. Yes, we agree that he is practically all of it, and in the same breath thank God for one strong man on the commission. The News has pointed out time and again the weaknesses of Lon Smith and C. V. Terrell, the other two members, but the people continue them in office. If the people do not want another weakling on this commission, better re-elect Col. Thompson.

The opponent of Congressman Marvin Jones has dug up all of the defunct, cast-off issues that have been rejected by Congress, and built for himself a dilapidated platform on which he is hoping to herd the voters. Size up Miller and his record; then just see what Marvin Jones has done in the past for this district, and how he stands with the administration. There is absolutely no question as to the outcome of this race. Marvin Jones will likely carry every county in the district. The voters should give him a great vote of confidence.

Two speakers opposing Senator Clint Small have appeared in Canyon. Those who heard them and have analyzed their statements have wondered at the charges they made. While appealing to the prejudices of the voters to oust the Senator, in spite of the wonderful work he has done for the district, the appeal is based completely upon prejudice. The speakers have skillfully evaded the question. They have charged that Senator Small has represented some corporations, but never have they charged that his vote has been influenced by this fact. If they believed for one minute, or could find any evidence that his vote has been influenced by this employment, do you think they would be silent? Not for one minute. They have scraped the records with a fine-tooth comb, and the only thing they have found is the fact that he missed a small number of the thousands of roll calls which are recorded during the course of a session of the legislature; that he voted against the Ferguson moratorium bill and the chain store bill. They fail to state that the first bill was declared unconstitutional, and that the chain store bill was declared unconstitutional last Friday. Do you wish a Senator who will willingly vote for measures which he knows to be unconstitutional? They have failed to make one single argument in favor of a superior ability of Douglass over Small, but are relying upon the prejudice which may be injected by crying out against corporations.

Such are the flimsy excuses which are being made against real public servants who should be retained in office.

The people of Canyon and Amarillo were spanked, verbally, by members of the Texas State Parks Board last week for not advertising the beauties of the Palo Duro State Park. The Board did not know whereof the members spoke, since only one of the three members present had visited the park recently, and knew very little of what was going on up here. The Parks Board is convinced that a bad trade was made when the state accepted the park area with such a ridiculously high price on the land. Most certainly the people of this section are not to blame for this bad trade, since the Board members made the trade without the knowledge or consent of any citizen in this section. Not only was the price too high, but the Board made another blunder in allowing to be written into the contract the rate of the gate fee. These prices were set by those seeking to unload a piece of property on to the state at prices far in excess of its real worth. The price of the land and the price of admission being mistakes of the Parks Board, the citizens of this section see no reason why they should be the goat and pay an excessive admission price just for the purpose of protecting the state in a bad trade, and to pay ransom to those who have hog-tied the state. The only way out is for the lien holders to cut the price of the contract down to something like a reasonable price for the land, or for the state to forfeit the land, and then condemn such part as it desires for a park. Since the state owns the site of all the improvements, and a right-of-way through the Park, the lien holders might have a rather difficult time in protecting their precious property from tresspassers if the state decides to give up the balance of the land. Until these problems have been settled, the people of Randall county do not feel the necessity of spending more than the $30,000 which they have already invested in the Park.

Railroad business is improving. The Western lines will start an advertising campaign in all newspapers to tell the people of the advantages of using the railroads. Modern equipment and faster speed is bringing the railroads back into favor. So far as long distance freight is concerned, there never has been any question of the superiority of the railroads in handling this business.

There is one group of youngsters in Randall county who will not soon forget July 4, 1936. This group is the public school band which so willingly gave its services during the day, playing from morning until late at night. The band responded to the constant pleas of the rodeo announcer at night for more and more music, even when there was no sense in having music, and the youngsters were almost worn to a frazzle. The band performed a notable service to the community, and thanks of all citizens goes to the members.

It was a grand and glorious Fourth of July so far as Canyon was concerned. The merchants did not expect to be run over with business, since a holiday is never a good business day. But one of the largest crowds ever to assemble in Canyon came for the day and enjoyed the program. Political speakers who have visited other towns state that the crowd Saturday was the largest they have faced this year, and that exceptionally good interest was shown on the part of the voters.

While most citizens would like to see a good rain, a majority of the farmers with good wheat are hoping that no rain will fall until the wheat crop is cut. It has been so long since there was a good wheat crop that farmers want to save it. The quality of the wheat is fine.

Harvest is well under way in Randal lcounty this week. Some farmers report that the yield is a disappointment to them, but on the whole the yield will be larger than was anticipated. The high price of the grain will help conditions very greatly in the county.

Those who have visited the Centennial celebration are thrilled with the bigness of the affair, and advise visitors to go prepared to spend several days if they would see all of the fine show. Many new features will be added before the end of this month.

The Fourth of July was a great success; 28 were killed in Texas and 50 were seriously injured.

A physician says that "worry kills only fools." Now that's something else to worry about.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Uncle Sam's Boys Appear Certain to Leave Rest of World Far Behind in 1936 Olympic Track and Field Competition

Two of America's brightest hopes for the Berlin Olympics . . . Walter Marty, above, great high jumper, and Jesse Owens, right, super dash man and broad jumper.

BY PHILIP MARTIN

YOUR Uncle Sam's male representatives at the 1932 Olympics staged in Los Angeles demonstrated their superiority over foreign invaders in track and field events.

And, if the records established in the last year by U. S. athletes are any criteria, the Stars and Stripes should wave over all others at the conclusion of the games soon to get under way in Herr Hitler's domain.

What foreign power can match Jesse Owens and Ralph Metcalfe in the sprints? This Negro pair should outspeed Yoshioka of Japan, Borchmeyer and Leichum of Germany, Haenni of Switzerland, and Grimbeck of South Africa, who will offer the keenest competition in the 100-meters.

These two brown flashes also seem superior to the rest of the field in the 200 meters. It is very likely, too, that Owens will establish a new record in the broad jump.

The 1500-meter race, comparable to our mile event, will be hotly contested, but Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bonthron, and Gene Venzke, U. S. cinder pounders, ought to show their dust to Jack Lovelock of New Zealand and Luigi Beccali of Italy.

SOMEWHAT less certain is the 400 meters. If Ben Eastman participates, it should be a breeze. If he doesn't, Jimmy LuValle will carry the hopes of the United States, with Eddie O'Brien, a Syracuse speedster, having an outside chance to crash through.

There is a possibility that Eastman will compete in the 800 meters, in which event he will face the starting gun as favorite. Chuck Hornbostel and Elroy Robinson, two Americans, also are slated for this event, and may find the going rather rough against Kasimir Kucharski of Poland and Mario Lanzi, an Italian.

As always, the Finns will dominate the distance races. Lauri Lehtinen, present champion, and Salminen, Virtanen, and Maki, his compatriots, appear to be the cream of the 5000-meter contestants. Norman Bright will carry the American colors in this long distance hike, but his best time doesn't compare with Lehtinen's.

The 10,000-meter title probably will be retained by Janusz Kusocinski of Poland, if he can overcome a knee injury. Kusocinski won the crown in Los Angeles in 1932.

ANOTHER Finn, Matti Jarvinen, is conceded to be the best javelin thrower of the lot, closely followed by Stoeck of Germany. The chances of the two American entrants, Charles Congloff and Horace O'Dell, are very slim.

America seems to have the 110-meter hurdles in the bag. Each of the three contestants, Al Moreau, Percy Beard, and Leroy Kilpatrick, has tied the world record of 14.2 seconds.

The 400-meter hurdle race is something different. White, Cochinillo, and Moore are Uncle Sam's best bets in this event, but their marks are under that of Kovacz of Hungary.

The U. S. athletes, Walter Marty and Cornelius Johnson, ought to come through with flying colors in the high jump.

Dr. Pat O'Callaghan of Ireland probably will take the hammer-throwing event with ease and set a world mark in the bargain.

American gladiators may not shine as impressively on foreign soil as they did in California four years ago, but they should garner a majority of firsts in track and field events.

Mission Converts Silk Stockings Into Rugs

Just before Mrs. T. V. Reeves left for Chicago, where she is studying during the summer, she took to the express office a package containing 415 silk stockings—with runs in them—collected by the Cousins Sunday School class for the Grenfell Mission in Labrador.

Recently she sent a clipping from a Chicago newspaper which stated that thousands of silk stockings comprised the bulk of cargo aboard the S. S. Lorenz W. Hanson which sailed from New York for Labrador.

The stockings will be turned over to stations of the International Grenfell association to be made into hooked rugs by the wives of fishermen in Labrador and Newfoundland.

Another bundle is being accumulated to follow the one sent to Labrador a short time ago.

The trouble about most of the advice to young girls is that it comes from women who have no girls and haven't been girls for so long that they can't remember what a girl's impulses are.

One of the last big shocks that comes to the average man is the day he hears of the children referring to him as the "old man."

The young man who is planning to get married this year will do well to remember that the first 100 biscuits are the hardest.

Billy Rose's circus-musical comedy-drama-revue-extravaganza "Jumbo" will be seen to even greater advantage during its stay at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial than during its season-long run at the New York Hippodrome. True nearly a quarter of a million dollars was expended making the famous Manhattan playhouse habitable for the elephantine spectacle.

But the "little ol' cow town way out west" has gone the big town on the Hudson one better. At Fort Worth a complete circus amphitheatre has been constructed, the first to be devoted exclusively to a circus in over seventy years. Designed and supervised by Albert Johnson it represents an investment of $300,000.00, over a third of which is allotted to electrical equipment and another $100,000.00 to paraphernalia.

Dr. Fred Oberst Is Pioneer in the Study Narcotics

Dr. Fred Oberst of Lexington, Ky., was here the past week visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Oberst. He was accompanied by his father-in-law, James A. Tabor, of Greencastle, Ind.

Dr. Oberst is doing pioneer work in chemistry, studying the effects of narcotics, and the means of curing the patients.

"There are 100,000 victims of narcotics in the United States," said Dr. Oberst. "Until our new institution was opened, no concentrated effort was made to study this great problem. We have 800 inmates in the institution, taking the most promising from the various penal institutions, those whom we believed may be rehabilitated."

Dr. Oberst states that the work of the institution is being followed by other nations. There are a few nations in which as many as 80% of the population are affected by the narcotic habit.

Dr. Oberst is a graduate of W. T., and has been in the University of Iowa since completing his work here. He was chosen for this special work from a large number of scientists. He has selected most of the laboratory equipment which is being used in the new establishment to suit the needs of the special work.

Dr. Oberst was delighted when Olin E. Hinkle was transferred from Pampa to Lexington, and upon special permission, conducted Hinkle through the big institution to provide him with information for a series of articles which he will write for the Lexington Herald, of which Hinkle is now managing editor.

Meat Cuts and How to Cook Them BEEF CHART

Every housewife is confronted with the three-a-day question of variety in the meals she serves. In beef we become addicted to roasts or steaks and forget all about the other good beef cuts which will give pleasing variation and be easy on the pocketbook, too. Perhaps our trouble lies in the fact that we are not as familiar as we should be with many of the possibilities offered by beef. If you are one of those whose use of beef is limited to a roast or a steak, the chart given above will be invaluable in learning to identify and locate the many retail cuts of beef. The chart will show you at a glance just how each one should be cooked. You will want to preserve this chart for ready reference.

Col E. O. Thompson

In making his formal announcement for re-election as a member of the Texas Railroad Commission, Col. Ernest O. Thompson feels no hesitancy in asking his "home folks" in the Panhandle to give him their unanimous support in order that he may serve them a second term on the all-important state body of which he is now chairman.

"I have served faithfully and conscientiously," states Colonel Thompson, "and I am proud of my record. I feel that it has been one of constructive service not only to my own country, the Panhandle, but to the people of the state as a whole. With the support of the fine people of the Panhandle I will be re-elected in the first primary—and I am asking the people of this section to give me their unqualified indorsement in the july primary."

Colonel Thompson's meteoric rise in state affairs is well-known to the people of the Panhandle. His administration of the state Railroad Commission has impressed the people of both the state and the nation. He has stopped the production of hot oil and the wastage of gas. He has put bootleg trucks off the highways. He has reduced freight rates on cotton and grain and on feedstuff's in the drouth regions. He has has reduced utility rates in hundreds of Texas cities and towns. By his constant efforts he has increased the daily market demand for, and sale of, Texas oil by 400,000 barrels per day, adding millions of dollars extra revenue to the state's school fund. His intensive study of oil conservation has stamped him as one of the leading authorities in America on this subject.

These are but a few specific examples of the meritorius and beneficial services rendered by Colonel Thompson. He is asking re-election to a second term and to use his own words he is "counting on the people of Randall and Swisher counties to put me over in the first primary."

Even if you can't keep your money in your own posession, keep it in Canyon.

Randall And Potter County Survey Ends

District Supervisor, Irby Carruth, Reports Inadequacies

I. B. Carruth, district supervisor of the state schools in a survey of state schools under the supervision of the State Board of Education, reports that all public schools in Randall and Potter Counties have been inspected.

"The main purpose of the survey is to correct the present inadequacies of schools and school districts," stated Mr. Carruth. "Many districts have poor facilities, poor lighting and poor equipment. Some of the buildings are unsafe and insanitary, and in many cases the teachers are overburdened.

"In some districts the schools have good facilities with nine-month terms, as compared with terms as short as three months in other districts. We must try to equalize school facilities in the various districts.

"Every feature of the schools is to be examined so that we will have a bird's-eye view of the Texas school system."

The survey will ultimately lead to a more equitable distribution of state tax monies, said Mr. Carruth.

A report of the survey will be put into the biennial report of the State Board of Education, which will be published Jan. 1. James O. Guleke is chairman of the educational committee of the board which will edit the report.

The state is divided into 20 districts, with district 16 containing the 20 northern counties of the Panhandle.

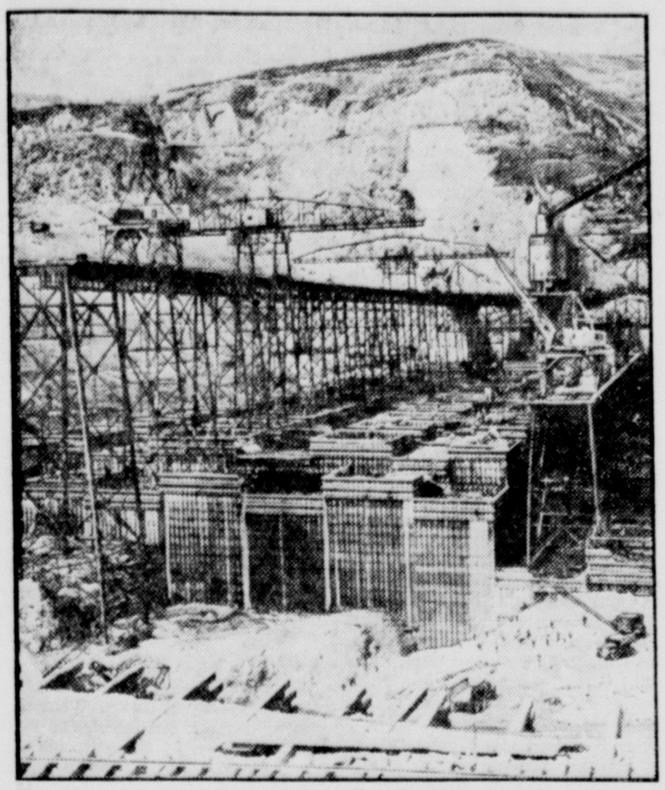
Another Great Dam Takes Form



Out of a complicated maze of construction framework, the mammoth Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia river begins to take shape. The western abutment of the great dam, shown here, rises more than 90 feet above bedrock. Some idea of the immensity of the structure may be gained by comparison with the truck and crane in the lower right hand corner. Workmen standing near the truck seem almost too tiny to be seen.

Planning Relief for Drouth States

With north central states threatened by a drouth comparable to that of 1934, WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins conferred in St. Paul with governors and WPA administrators of the stricken states. Plans were made to transfer nearly 25,000 farmers from their seared lands to WPA road and dam projects until rain fell or more permanent relief could be devised. In this picture, taken at the St. Paul meeting, are Howard Hunter, seated, left, chief assistant to Hopkins; and Hopkins; standing, left to right, M. A. Kennedy, South Dakota WPA administrator; Victor Christgau, Minnesota WPA administrator; Tom Moodie, North Dakota WPA administrator; and Gov. Tom Berry of South Dakota.

John D. Rockefeller, 97 This Week and Healthy, Looks to 100th Year

AN outstanding American has attained his 97th birthday. Born July 8, 1839, that amazing old man, John D. Rockefeller, will live to at least 100 years—so his doctors and few intimates believe.

They say Mr. Rockefeller is looking better these days than he has in many years. Closer confinement has restored to his complexion a glow that was not there when he was playing the role of inveterate outdoor man. In those days his skin was parched, and he appeared weatherbeaten.

But closer confinement and reduced activity of the aged multimillionaire do not mean that his mind is any less alert. The same friends who call his health good say Mr. Rockefeller now appears as capable mentally as at any other time in his career. He realizes, however, that extreme care is necessary if his life is to be prolonged, for at 60 he was a broken man, suffering from dyspepsia. Careful living brought him back.

GOLF was John D's pet hobby in his spry 80's and early 90's. But not now. His favorite sport finally became too strenuous. He still likes to take automobile rides and still loves speed, but he is allowed little of this diversion.

Returning from Florida last month, however, he rode 60 miles an hour over back roads to elude reporters. Mr. Rockefeller had detrained at an obscure spot a few miles from his summer estate, Golf House, near Lakewood, N. J.

There are no more Christmas and birthday parties for Mr. Rockefeller. At these he was the life of the party and took great joy in singing old songs. Among his favorites were "Annie Laurie," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Suwanee River."

EAGER children no longer encounter the old man, to be given the famous Rockefeller dimes.

Short walks in the gardens of his estates provide Mr. Rockefeller's only exercise. On warm days he is allowed to sit outside in a wicker rocking chair and read.

Even the luxury of "dressing up" is denied the aging man. Evening clothes were his delight, and he wore them with distinction. Doctors think it advisable that he never again put on a collar of any sort.

Mr. Rockefeller has loving care that will allow nothing to disturb or excite him. But such restrictions must annoy a man whose life has been so eventful.

The natural reaction would be to chafe, to become unbearably irritable. But not Mr. Rockefeller. He knows how to "grow old gracefully."

Massachusetts Court Declares That Bank Night Is No Lottery

BOSTON, July 2.—The Massachusetts Supreme Court ruled today that "bank night" is not a lottery.

Bank night is a night set aside by various theaters during which a sum of money is given to a patron whose name is drawn from among those of patrons who hold gratuitiously distributed tickets.

Specifically, a Medford theater operator was charged with promoting a lottery.

The court held, however, that "the essence of a lottery is a chance of a prize for a price. What they give away is money by chance and if the winner pays no price, there is no lottery.

In effect, the court held that a man could not be held guilty of promoting a lottery without specifically selling lottery tickets.

Two large bouquets of gladioli of rare beauty in coloring and size were brought to the News Office yesterday by Mrs. D. D. Wheat Harvest vator, coming from O. A. Smith's farm.

The price has fluctuated on the Chicago market this week, but $1.00 has been the price offered by local dealers.

So little wheat has been cut that an estimate of the yield is hard to get. Farmers generally report that the yield and test will be better than they expected.

Harvest hands were in demand this week, but few were to be found.

Lonnie Byars is reported to have combined 40 acres of wheat which went to 30 bushels to the acre.

Glen Costley reported 20 bushels per acre for the first he cut.

J. C. McClendon reports his crop to be running about 16 bushels to the acre.

where the youngsters were used almost continuously through the one and one-half hour program.

The kid games on the court house lawn attracted much attention during the morning, and ended with bicycle races. Prizes were given for the winners of the various stunts and races.

A large crowd saw Lieut. Murphy put his car through several stunts on the west side of the square at 12:30 o'clock.

Fifty cars and trucks were in line as the parade was held at 2:15 o'clock, showing the development which had taken place by the Fords and Chevrolets. New models of both cars were shown in the parade. A large crowd watched the parade as it circled the square, headed by the band.

By 3:00 o'clock the court house lawn was covered with people as the weekly cash distribution was held, conducted by W. A. Warren. Mr. Warren announced that the weekly cash distribution will be held at 3:00 o'clock each Saturday during July, instead of Wednesday which was the day selected for the month of June.

The political speaking started at 3:25 and continued until 6:15. All precinct, county, district and state candidates, or their representatives, were given an opportunity to speak. Practically all of the local candidates were present and made short statements. At times during the afternoon the speeches became hot as charges were made and denied by the various speakers. The crowd seemed to enjoy the fireworks of oratory.

The speaking drew the largest crowd that had ever assembled in Canyon for political purposes, and great interest was shown in the talks of all speakers. District candidates especially praised the size of the crowd and the interest which was shown during the afternoon.

A large number watched the softball games which were played at 6:30 o'clock.

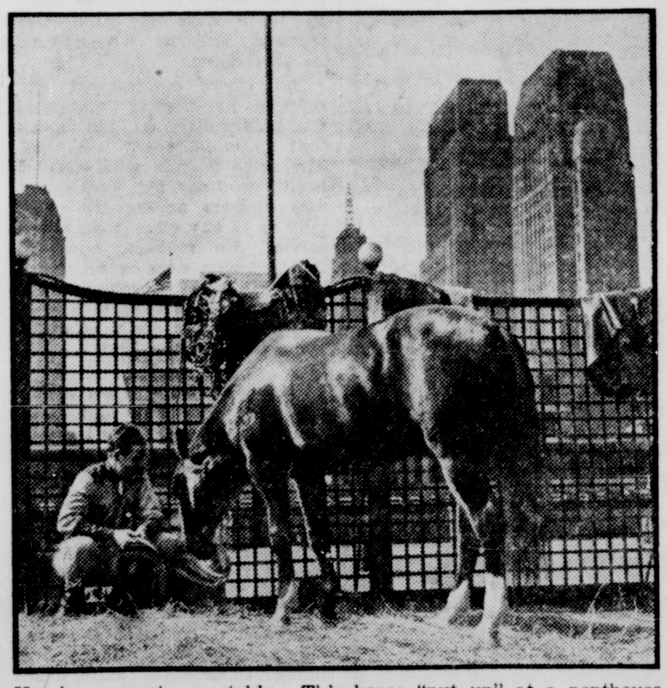
The rodeo at 8:30 o'clock at Buffalo Stadium drew a larger crowd than was expected. Red Myrick and his trained horse furnished most of the entertainment for the crowd. The riding and roping of his crew of drug store cowboys was not much of a display of the western art.

WRECKING OLD ELEVATOR

The old elevator west of the Texas Utilities plant is being wrecked this week. The elevator was erected 26 years ago by the Eagle Milling Company. Flour was made in this plant for a number of years, and when manufacturing was discontinued, the building was used by different wheat buyers. It has not been used for four years.

Miss Helen Lyles left Friday for Winslow, Ark., where she will serve as instructor in the Provincial Summer Conference for young people of the Episcopal Church. She will return July 20.

High Living for Penthouse Pony



Here's a sumptuous stable. This horse "put up" at a penthouse atop a Chicago hotel when its owner, "Silver Dollar" Brady, visited Chicago. A wealthy cowboy-miner, Brady, pictured with his horse, was in the Windy City to interest merchants in his theory that putting silver dollars in pay envelopes, and giving them as change would stimulate buying and help speed return of prosperity.
